- B. By using Transcript Report and Transcript Type security for each user under the SetupSACR navigation
- C. By specifying security restrictions on the Transcript Type definition page
- D. By building a security role for generating particular transcripts
- E. By creating a different transcript type for each set of users

Correct Answer: A

QUESTION 2

After saving an application on the Add Application component, your client realizes that the Program and Plan are incorrect. What caused this incorrect data?

- A. The client had a Program and Plan entered on the User Defaults component and neglected to change it on this application.
- B. The client does not have appropriate row-level security for the correct Program and Plan.
- C. The system overrode the Program and Plan with the values entered on the applicant's prospect record.
- D. The Program and Plan are not entered on the Add Application component.
- E. The correct Program and Plan are not available for the selected Admit Type.

Correct Answer: B

QUESTION 3

Your client currently has two enrollment periods within a particular term. What problem will arise if these periods are set up as separate terms rather than sessions within one term?

- A. Separate courses will have to be set up in the Course Catalog for each term.
- B. Academic load and billing units will total separately, causing the student to appear part-time in two terms rather than full-time in a single term.
- C. Add and drop enrollment dates would have to be different for the separate terms.
- D. A course taken but not graded in the first term cannot be used as a prerequisite for a course in the second term.
- E. The student will have to register for classes in the first term, log out, and then log back into PeopleSoft to register for the second term.

Correct Answer: C
