QUESTION 1

Indirect practice benefits all individuals, but especially the population targeted by social welfare programs and policies. Social workers begin working with individuals based on what foundational principle reinforced by the NASW Code of Ethics?

- A. Social justice
- B. Affirmative action
- C. The dignity and worth of a person
- D. Discrimination The collective need of society for fairness

Correct Answer: C

A primary tenet of the NASW Code of Ethics is the dignity and worth of a person. From this principle is built the concepts of social justice, empowerment, and all others from which a social worker may organize interventions.

QUESTION 2

Dysfunctional families do not talk about their feelings or activities. Non-communication and secrecy is seen as the solution to unsolvable problems. Members within the family feel that opening up to someone will make them vulnerable to judgment. Due to a lack of communication and the existence of secrets, dysfunctional families live with constant:

- A. Emotional abuse
- B. Anger and fear
- C. Unconscious violent behaviors
- D. None of the above

Correct Answer: B

Dysfunctional families believe their patterns of communication are dependent upon their survival. It is an unwritten rule not to talk about actions or feelings thought to be shameful. Anger and fear become a way of life, rarely noticed by family members. In turn, this causes problems with health, relationships and self-esteem.

QUESTION 3

A small community is located across from a town garbage dump. There are no fences surrounding the unsanitary grounds, methods to prevent water seepage, or attempts to keep the pest problem to a minimum. A clinical social worker decides to take these concerns to town hall with the threat of notifying the Board of Health. Soon, changes begin to be noticeable, and the community can be comfortable in their environment. What authority was exercised by the professional?

- A. Competency
- B. Knowledge

C. Behavior Modification

D. Advocacy

Correct Answer: D

The clinical social worker utilized advocacy skills to bring about positive changes to the community. To advocate means to step in and support individuals or communities who lack the leadership, skills, resources, or access to help themselves.

QUESTION 4

Richard is an eight year old living in an unstable environment. He resides in subsidized housing with his parents and sister. The child has observed his father's chronic spousal abuse towards his mother his whole life. Richard knows not to interfere or there will be violent consequences. He is isolated from having social contact with his friends and other adults. Richard's father communicates with him by calling the boy stupid, dumb and retarded. What form of neglect is being described?

A. Medical

B. Physical

C. Emotional/psychological

D. Educational

Correct Answer: C

This situation is an example of emotional/psychological neglect, a pattern of which can result in a child's poor self-image, drug or alcohol abuse, destructive behaviors or even suicide. Examples of emotional child maltreatment include ignoring, rejecting, verbally assaulting, terrorizing and exploitation.

QUESTION 5

The Hierarchy of Needs developed by Abraham Maslow was intended to be followed in exact order to achieve successful personal development. If any of the stages are not completed, others will be affected or diminished.

What is the correct order?

A. Biological and physical, safety, belongingness and love, esteem, self-actualization

B. Safety, biological and physical, esteem, belongingness and love, self-actualization

C. Safety, belongingness and love, biological and physical, self-actualization, esteem

D. Belongingness and love, biological and physical, safety, self-actualization, esteem

Correct Answer: A

Abraham Maslow developed his Hierarchy of Needs in the order of: 1) biological and physiological needs such as air, food, drink, warmth, shelter, sex and sleep 2) safety needs include protection from the elements, order, law, security, stability and limits 3) belongingness and love needs for family, affection, relationships and work 4) esteem needs such as achievement, mastery, independence, prestige and status 5) self-actualization needs for realizing personal potential, seeking personal growth and self-fulfillment.
