QUESTION 1

Those who seek the advice of scientists in this matter should recognize that, because the knowledge available is _____, the reliability of the advice cannot be _____.

- A. technical; documented
- B. coherent; explained
- C. explicit; understood
- D. inadequate; guaranteed
- E. extraneous; denied

Correct Answer: D

The words "documented", "explained" and "understood" are not suitable adjectives for the noun "reliability", and can straight-away be discarded for that reason. Since it is logical to say that, if the available knowledge is inadequate, the reliability of the advice based on such limited knowledge cannot be guaranteed, "inadequate; guaranteed" is a suitable choice.

The pair "extraneous; denied" does not result in a logical sentence, and is wrong.

QUESTION 2

Based on the email, what is the relationship between Andrew and Sarah?

Andrew, This year, Mom and Dad will be traveling to Hawaii for Christmas. Dylan and I hoped we could still get together at the house for the sake of maintaining tradition for our kids. If you and Susan don't mind, we'd like to arrive two days before Christmas, as always, and uphold our typical schedules. Because Mom and Dad won't be here, we'll need help making Christmas dinner and desserts, and will also need help decorating the house for Christmas. Could you bring lights and ornaments? We will be providing the tree. Finally, we need help transporting all of our presents and decorations this year. Would you mind storing some of our decorations in your car for the drive to Mom and Dad's? Let me know! -Sarah

- A. brother and sister
- B. father and daughter
- C. best friends
- D. husband and wife

Correct Answer: A

QUESTION 3

Passage 1 "It is obvious that the legal driving age in the United States needs to be adjusted. Although the driving age has been sixteen for many years, studies show that kids of such a young age are not yet capable of understanding the deep responsibility that comes with operating a motor vehicle. Sixteen-year-olds, while old enough to see R-rated movies, are still children in many ways. Psychologists agree that people of this age do not have the cognitive awareness to make major life decisions, yet operating a vehicle on the road forces them to do just that. If the driving age were to be raised to eighteen, there would be far fewer accidents and casualties on the American roadways. People must understand that sixteen-year-old drivers are a danger to themselves and others when allowed to drive unsupervised."

Passage 2 "The legal driving age in the United States has remained the same for many years for one primary reason: it is fair and reasonable. While young, sixteen-year-olds are certainly old enough to undertake the responsibility of driving alone. Because these teenagers are made to practice for a year with a learner's permit and then to pass a test proving their skills, there is no reason to suggest that they cannot handle a motor vehicle effectively. Those that assume that sixteen is too young to drive often forget to consider the large number of responsibilities teenagers already handle on a day-to-day basis in today's world. Things like homework, after-school activities, family responsibilities, and social events all must be carefully maintained in order to make life work. If a sixteen-year-old can handle these daily responsibilities, they can certainly handle driving a car. The legal driving age is fair and should not be negotiated, now or ever."

Which of the following arguments were not made by the author of the second passage?

- A. Teenagers have shown that they can handle responsibility through school and social activities.
- B. Teenagers use a learning permit for a year to prepare for driving alone.
- C. Teenagers must pass a test before being allowed to drive.
- D. Teenagers learn from watching their parents drive for many years.

Correct Answer: D
