QUESTION 1

Known as the Australian Eleanor Roosevelt, Jessie Street lived a life in privilege while at the same time devoting her efforts to working for the rights of the disenfranchised, including workers, women, refugees, and Aborigines.

- A. lived a life in privilege while at the same time devoting
- B. lived a life of privilege while simultaneously she devoted
- C. lived a life of privilege while devoting
- D. lived a life in privilege and devoting at the same time
- E. lived a life of privilege and wealth while at the same time devoted

Correct Answer: C

The correct idiom is to live a life of privilege, so choices a and d are incorrect. Choice b is wordy (simultaneously repeats while and she is repeated unnecessarily), as is choice e (wealth is redundant with life of privilege).

QUESTION 2

A drug that is highly effective in treating certain types of cancerous growth can, at present, be obtained only from the cartilage of a particular sub-species of shark, a sub-species which is quite rare in the wild. One must kill 50 sharks to make one pound of the drug. It follows, therefore, that continued production of the drug must inevitably lead to the extinction of this sub-species of shark.

Which of the following, if true, most seriously weakens the argument above?

- A. The drug made from the shark cartilage is dispensed to doctors from a central authority.
- B. The drug made from the shark cartilage is expensive to produce.
- C. Other organs of the shark can be utilized to produce different drugs.
- D. The sub-species of shark will reproduce in captivity under the proper conditions.
- E. This sub-species of shark generally lives in largely inaccessible waters.

Correct Answer: D

The best answer is D. If the shark can be successfully bred in captivity, it is possible to continue production of the drug without threatening the shark with extinction.

QUESTION 3

Bonuses at DSR Industries cannot be awarded unless profits exceed a ten percent return on stockholders' investments in the company. Higher profits mean higher bonuses. Therefore, bonuses in a year of general economic recession will be considerably lower than bonuses in a year of peak profits at DSR.

The conclusion above depends on the assumption that A. the firm will have relatively low profits in recession years

- B. the amount represented by a ten percent return on stockholders' investments in the company will increase from year to year
- C. profits rarely exceed a ten percent return on stockholders' investments in the company
- D. profits in excess of a ten percent return on stockholders' investments in the company are all distributed in the form of bonuses
- E. bonuses at DSR never drop to zero

Correct Answer: A

QUESTION 4

One state adds a 7 percent sales tax to the price of most products purchased within its jurisdiction. This tax, therefore, if viewed as tax on income, has the reverse effect of the federal income tax: the lower the income, the higher the annual percentage rate at which the income is taxed.

The conclusion above would be properly drawn if which of the following were assumed as a premise?

- A. The amount of money citizens spend on products subject to the state tax tends to be equal across income levels.
- B. The federal income tax favors citizens with high incomes, whereas the state sales tax favors citizens with low incomes.
- C. Citizens with low annual incomes can afford to pay a relatively higher percentage of their incomes in state sales tax, since their federal income tax is relatively low.
- D. The lower a state's sales tax, the more it will tend to redistribute income from the more affluent citizens to the rest of society.
- E. Citizens who fail to earn federally taxable income are also exempt from the state sales tax.

Correct Answer: A

QUESTION 5

Companies considering new cost-cutting manufacturing processes often compare the projected results of making the investment against the alternative of not making the investment with costs, selling prices, and share of market remaining constant.

Which of the following, assuming that each is a realistic possibility, constitutes the most serious disadvantage for companies of using the method above for evaluating the financial benefit of new manufacturing processes?

- A. The costs of materials required by the new process might not be known with certainty.
- B. In several years interest rates might go down, reducing the interest costs of borrowing money to pay for the investment.
- C. Some cost-cutting processes might require such expensive investments that there would be no net gain for many years, until the investment was paid for by savings in the manufacturing process.
- D. Competitors that do invest in a new process might reduce their selling prices and thus take market share away from companies that do not.

E. The period of year chosen for averaging out the cost of the investment might be somewhat longer or shorter, thus affecting the result.

Correct Answer: D

QUESTION 6

Clarinet reeds often lose their freshness ?become less responsive ?after a few weeks of intense use. One clarinetist has hypothesized that a buildup of oil, rather than changes in the material properties of the reed, were responsible. Which of the following investigations is most likely to yield significant information that would help to evaluate the hypothesis?

A. Determining what kind of wood is used to make the reeds used by jazz clarinetists.

B. Determining whether jazz clarinetists make their reeds lose their freshness faster than do classical clarinetists.

C. Determining whether identical lengths of reeds, of the same thickness, lose their freshness at different rates when put onto various brands of clarinets.

D. Determining whether rubbing various substances on the new reed causes them to lose their freshness.

E. Determining whether a fresh reed and one that has lost its freshness produce different qualities of sound

Correct Answer: D

The best answer is D. The hypothesis has two parts: first, that intense use does not bring material changes that cause the reed to lose its freshness and, second, that oil causes the phenomenon. The experiment suggested in choice D directly test this hypothesis by contaminating strings that are known to have their original material properties.

QUESTION 7

Polycystic ovarian syndrome, or PCOS (aka Stein-Leventhal disease), is a condition that affects between 6% and 20% of women in the United States. It is a little understood syndrome that often goes undetected and is frequently misdiagnosed. PCOS produces tiny cysts on the surface of a woman's ovaries. These cysts are undeveloped follicles (eggs) that inexplicably fail to release through the ovarian wall as part of the menstrual cycle. Some researchers believe the eggs fail to release from the ovary because of the presence of male hormones in the blood. However, new research is indicating that PCOS is related to insulin resistance. Unfortunately, the cysts themselves are only a small part of this syndrome. PCOS can present a variety of symptoms, including hair growth on the face and chest, stubborn acne, hair loss, obesity, irregular menses, infertility, and an increased risk of diabetes. Many of these symptoms impact a woman's physical appearance and her self- esteem. If left untreated, women suffering from PCOS may experience greater levels of stress and depression. A woman exhibiting any of these symptoms should contact her physician to determine if she has PCOS. Although there is no cure for PCOS, a number of different treatments can stop or reverse many of the symptoms.

According to the passage, many women who have PCOS

A. are unable to have children.

B. have an excess of male hormones in their blood.

C. overreact to the symptoms.

- D. cannot afford proper treatment.
- E. do not even know they have the disease.

Correct Answer: E

The second sentence says that PCOS is "little understood" and "often goes undetected and is frequently misdiagnosed." Thus, many women who have the syndrome do not even know they have it. One symptom of PCOS is infertility, but not all women who have PCOS are infertile, so choice a, is incorrect. The passage tells us that new research has debunked the theory that male hormones in the blood cause the disease, so choice b is incorrect. Nothing in the passage suggests that women who have the syndrome overreact (choice c) or cannot afford treatment (choice d).

QUESTION 8

Walter: A copy of an artwork should be worth exactly what the original is worth if the two works are visually indistinguishable. After all, if the two works are visually indistinguishable, they have all the same qualities, and if they have all the same qualities, their prices should be equal.

Marissa: How little you understand art! Even if someone could make a perfect copy that is visually indistinguishable from the original, the copy would have a different history and hence not have all the same qualities as the original. Marissa uses which of the following techniques in attempting to refute Walter's argument?

- A. Attacking his assumption that the price of an artwork indicates its worth
- B. Raising a point that would undermine one of the claims on which his conclusion is based
- C. Questioning his claim that a perfect copy of a work of art would be visually indistinguishable from the original
- D. Giving reason to believe that Walter is unable to judge the quality of a work of art because of his inadequate understanding of the history of art
- E. Proposing alternative criteria for determining whether two works of art are visually indistinguishable

Correct Answer: B

QUESTION 9

Named a member of the committee to draw up a Declaration of Independence, the basic draft was completed by Thomas Jefferson in a week. .

- A. the basic draft was completed by Thomas Jefferson in a week.
- B. the basic draft Thomas Jefferson completed in a week.
- C. the basic draft was completed by Thomas Jefferson in a week.
- D. Thomas Jefferson completed the basic draft in a week.
- E. Thomas Jefferson in a week completed the basic draft.

Correct Answer: D

The best answer is D. The sentence starts with the adjectival phrase, Named a member of the committee to draw up a Declaration of Independence. That phrase is supposed to modify the noun that comes immediately after it, making A, B, and C incorrect. E is incorrect because in a week incorrectly comes between the noun and verb.

QUESTION 10

In order to increase revenues, an airport plans to change the parking fees it charges at its hourly parking lots. Rather than charging $2.00 for the first two-hour period, or part thereof, and $1.00 for each hour thereafter, the airport will charge $4.00 for the first four-hour period, or part thereof, and $1.00 for each hour thereafter.

Which of the following is a consideration that, if true, suggests that the plan will be successful in increasing revenues?

- A. Very few people who park their cars at the hourly parking lot at the airport leave their cars for more than two hours at a time.
- B. Over the past several years, the cost to the airport of operating its hourly parking facilities has been greater than the revenues it has received from them.
- C. People who leave their cars at the airport while on a trip generally park their cars in lots that charge by the day rather than by the hour.
- D. A significant portion of the money spent to operate the airport parking lot is spent to maintain the facilities rather than to pay the salaries of the personnel who collect the parking fees.
- E. The hourly parking lots at the airport have recently been expanded and are therefore rarely filled to capacity.

Correct Answer: A

QUESTION 11

Mahatma Gandhi is credited as having championed a nonviolent approach to reform as a practical and moral means to struggle against social injustice.

- A. as having
- B. with having
- C. to have
- D. as the one who
- E. for being the one who

Correct Answer: B

The best answer is B. In English it is idiomatic usage to credit someone with having done something.

QUESTION 12

On the basis of a decrease in the college-age population, many colleges now anticipate increasingly smaller freshman classes each year. Surprised by a 40 percent increase in qualified applicants over the previous year, however, administrators at Nice College now plan to hire more faculty for courses taken by all freshmen.

Which of the following statements about Nice College's current qualified applicants, if true, would strongly suggest that the administrators' plan is flawed?

- A. A substantially higher percentage than usual plan to study for advanced degrees after graduation from college.
- B. According to their applications, their level of participation in extracurricular activities and varsity sports is unusually high.
- C. According to their applications, none of them lives in a foreign country.
- D. A substantially lower percentage than usual rate Nice College as their first choice among the colleges to which they are applying.
- E. A substantially lower percentage than usual list mathematics as their intended major.
